

Chamber of Commerce Banquet Big Success

The second quarterly banquet of the Chamber of Commerce was held at 7 o'clock on the evening of February 24th, in the Woman's History Club rooms, with one hundred and fifty members in attendance.

The hall was attractively decorated in keeping with the holiday season, the souvenirs being tiny red hats as a reminder of the 22nd. Each table was elaborately decorated with blooming plants, and the lights were shaded with red, white and blue lanterns, casting a soft glow over the entire assemblage.

The delightful four-course dinner was efficiently served by the country Women's Club and too much cannot be said for the food and service, both were all that could be desired and more. The music was furnished by Miss Flo Shirley at the piano and Mr. Joe Bogie with the drums, xylophone and bells.

The ice was broken, all dignity laid aside and a spirit of conviviality established when each guest, upon entering, was presented with, and compelled to wear a nobby red, white and blue hat of fashionable and becoming style, it, of course, was more becoming and stylish on some than on others.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. Goldsmith, after which the entire company sang "America" and the one hundred and fifty voices, singing with all the vigor possible, made a very lusty chorus, and one of which the organization may well be proud. Messrs. Joe Keller and Gummil Senff led the choruses throughout the evening and were themselves amazed at the volume and "pep" displayed by these supposedly serious-minded business men.

After the first course Mr. Senff sang "All She Said Was Uhm-Hum." Needless to say it was a "hit."

Immediately after dinner the tables were cleared, preparatory to the death-defying (?) automobile race, rules and regulations of which were announced by Secretary Sharp. Three automobiles, one to race on each table, were brought in, each driven by a Kewpie, clad only in the first suit worn after making his entry into this world of trial and tribulation. Four relay men were selected, from each table, who were provided with a glass of water and a change of clothes for the dare-devil drivers. These relay men took their places on the backs of their chairs, away and above the madden-

Farm Loan Act is Upheld by Court

The Farm Loan Act, designed to assist the agricultural development of the United States by providing readily accessible credits to farmers through federal land banks, was declared valid Monday by the Supreme Court.

In an opinion which Commissioner Charles E. Lohdell, of the Farm Loan Board, declared "clears away every legal question and removes every shadow of question as to the legality of the banks of their bonds," the court held that Congress had full authority to establish the land banks and the correlative authority to exempt their bonds from state taxation.

Commissioner Lohdell announced that there would be an immediate issue of Farm Loan bonds "to an undetermined amount" to finance the hundreds of millions of dollars in loans which already had been approved by the board and which were held up pending the court's decision.

"Unpleasant Mannerisms"

Did you ever have a person get on your nerves? I have lots of times, and I am not ashamed to admit it. There are certain little tricks that people have which detract greatly from my feeling of pleasure in their society, and I'm sure that I do not stand alone in this respect.

For instance is there anything more exasperating than the woman who will never let you finish a sentence? She may not be such a great talker either—it is mainly because she never starts to have an idea until you are speaking. The great attraction seems to be to drown you out. Then, there are other women who always wait to ask you something until you are busy listening to some one. They may have been silent for hours, but let them see you trying to make head or tail out of something and this is their golden opportunity.

Then the woman who has the nervous habit of clearing her throat, not because she has a cold, for she does it summer and winter alike—but just through embarrassment. Why should anyone be embarrassed in this world? Why not speak right up—that's what I, with my disposition, cannot understand.

The elderly spinster with the girlish giggle "Tee Hee; Tee Hee!" Oh, how that gets on everyone's nerves, particularly those of the men! Why will a woman, single or married, adopt a kittenish pose after a certain age? It certainly makes her appear no younger, but quite the opposite.

Then there is another variety of woman that sometimes makes me long to scream, namely, the one who confides a lot of things to you that she ought not, and then begs you over and over again, not to repeat what she had indiscreetly let you know. There are two things about this which I do not like. In the first place I am too busy to be interested, in the real things of life, to listen to other folks' gossip—and I hate gossip anyway! Then I think it is very insulting to take for granted that I will repeat what I have been told in confidence. So I get perfectly furious with the woman on general principles and wish she had stayed away from me altogether.

And the fat matron who refers to "Poor little me!" and says she has just bought the cunningest little boudoir cap for herself.

The girl who is always hopelessly in love and comes mooning around my house and sheds tears all over my carpet also gets my goat. Why should she dabble in the game of love unless she is a better sport? I am sure I never bother anyone when I have the blues. I just try to solve my own difficulties and stay away from my friends until I could be my own smiling agreeable self again. Most people have troubles enough to bear without inflicting one's own on them. Of course being in deep affliction is another matter. We all have a right to call upon our friends in such circumstances and no one can accuse of failing on the contrary. I praise myself on my loyalty. But I am referring to the silly, sentimental woman and the whiner.

The woman who is so nervous that she twitches and jerks and cannot stay still is another bugbear of mine. You may think she is a rare specimen, but I assure you that she is more common than I imagined. Sometimes by way of variety she bites her nails and puts her hands up to her face, stroking her chin, or fussing with her hair until you feel like going mad. Repose of manner is one of the greatest aids to creating a pleasing impression and one which every woman should cultivate if she wants to be admired. How often I have heard men say they liked to talk to a certain woman, because she rested them!

If women would only remember this—there would be fewer shrill voices, fewer hysterical attempts to be bright and "peppy" and to force the attention of the opposite sex on the part of pert misses without an idea in their heads. Why even in the movies we are especially cautioned against jerky, sudden gestures, against bouncing out of our seats, and rushing across rooms. If such things spoil the harmony of a picture show much more will they affect one in real life.

Last and by no means least is the proper pitch of the human voice as a means of charming. Speak low and if this is not your natural habit, cultivate it by all means. A high voice becomes exceedingly tiresome, and a loud one should never be tolerated. Be careful of your accent. Do not clip your words, and use slang or speak in a flat tone. Study the way people of refinement and education speak all over the world and weed out but anything in your speech which may flavor of any particular locality—which is what you call provincial.

Many a woman with a homely face has charmed by her soft voice and carefully chosen English, but I have never heard of a beauty succeeding socially if she had a stringent voice and used uneducated language.

BEFORE SPRING COMES, TONE UP YOUR BLOOD

Your Blood Needs the Help of Gude's Pepto-Mangan in Spring-time to Overcome Drowsy, Listless Feelings Called "Spring Fever"

PALE FACES CAUSED BY BAD BLOOD

That Tired, All-Gone Feeling is a Danger Signal That Your Blood Needs This Splendid Spring Tonic

The blood that courses through your body in the arteries and veins is of the most vital importance to the healthy life of the body. The little red corpuscles are what carry life to the millions of cells that make up your body. The blood is also the vehicle that carries away most, if not all, of the waste products.

Springtime is the season when the body adjusts itself from the vigors of winter to the heat of summer. You notice how much sickness there is in the Spring? Perhaps there are weeks when you feel drowsy and listless, and you call it "Spring Fever." It is really your blood that has become weak and thin and it needs help.

Take that good blood tonic—Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It will give the red corpuscles in your blood new power to carry fresh oxygen to the cells all over the body. You'll notice a change for the better in a few days. It brings the color back to pale faces and lifts you out of tired, all-gone feelings so that you enjoy full vigor.

Spring is the time for a good blood tonic. Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan so that you can enjoy the most beautiful season of the year. Get it at your druggist's, but be sure it is the genuine, with "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" printed on the package. It is sold in both tablet and liquid form. They have exactly the same medicinal value.—Advertisement.

Under-Fed Cows Are Costly Milk Plants

Cows that are under-nourished and made to produce small quantities of milk produce that milk at a high cost, is the statement of Prof. J. J. Hooper, head of the Dairy Department of the State College of Agriculture. Experiments conducted by the college on various Kentucky dairy herds show that a great increase in milk production may often be brought about by better methods of feeding. Many cows are fed on corn meal and corn stover and are thus unable to produce their maximum flow of milk, according to Prof. Hooper. Milk is most economically produced when the cow is most productive.

A standard grain mixture that has been used with good results by the State College of Agriculture and by many farmers of Kentucky is made up of four parts of corn meal, two parts of wheat bran and two parts of cotton seed meal, all mixed by weight and a pound of the mixture given to the cow for each three to three and one-half pounds of milk that she produces in a day. In addition to this the animal should be supplied with 10 to 15 pounds of clover hay and 30 pounds of silage each day.

That this ration is a satisfactory one is shown by the results which have been obtained in feeding it to Kentucky cows. Members of the various dairy associations over the state have also found that by eliminating some of the low producing cows and giving their feed to the remaining animals that the profit from

What would YOU say to a situation like this?

Tomorrow early, you go down to business, and just as you step inside your store, you see on the floor, in front of you, a POCKETBOOK.

"Hello!" you say to yourself—"wonder who could have dropped this? Guess I'll open 'er up and see what's inside."

But, before you have had time to pick it up, an ARMPFUL of pocketbooks come in through the window, and scatter all about you!

You straighten up and stare—while pocketbooks keep coming! They pile up and up.

You work all day, sorting and counting pocketbooks! You handle over fifteen hundred of them—all containing money?

They are the private property of regular subscribers to the Mt. Sterling Advocate, and these same 1,500 pocketbooks are now dropping into the cash-drawers considerably MORE THAN THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS A WEEK.

All the Farmer Wants Is a Square Deal

All the farmer wants is a square deal and we propose to help him to get it. Capital and labor through their various organizations, have heralded to the world that the farmer is a profiteer. If he is to have such a title he wants the profits, but having failed to see any profits Mr. Farmer is now going to speak through his organizations, lay the blame where it belongs, and show that instead of being a profiteer he has been made the goat of a needlessly rapid deflation.

Another thing of vital interest to the Kentucky farmer is the question of taxes—who is paying them and how they are being spent. He hopes to have something of interest for his consideration in an early number.

Freight rates also are affecting farm commodities as they never did before. These inequalities will be pointed out and ways and means devised to have other classes of traffic bear their just proportion of the fabulous increases.

More than at any other period in history, the Kentucky farmer today is feeling the need of an organization that will speak authoritatively for and constantly work toward securing his just rights. All industries and every class of labor, through their strong associations and unions, have demanded and received certain privileges from the state and national government. Threats of strikes and lock-outs have been freely used to secure privileges and increased compensation for labor. Financial assistance has been given industry and deflation, rapid and ruthless, has been visited upon the farmers. He has accepted his condition as he does the vagaries of the weather in the past, but he is now ready and willing to stand up for his rights and insist upon "equal rights to all with privileges to none." These columns will be unceasingly active in the attempt to secure these rights along sane and conservative lines.

To carry out these plans and others that we have in mind and that will develop from time to time, we can only aid the progress of the farmer by receiving their co-operation and support. The greater efforts put forward by all farmers presenting a united front, the quicker and more substantial will be the benefits realized.

Ruling to Aid Road Building

Circuit Judge I. N. Cisco last week dissolved the injunction obtained by County Attorney O. L. Thompson, Louisville, restraining Lawrence county from appropriating $125,000 for use on the state and federal highway, known as the Mayo Trail.

The case probably will go to the Court of Appeals in order to settle certain points in the new road law relating to the power of a Fiscal Court to donate money for such a road.

Mayo Trail leads from Ashland to Pikeville, the full length of the Big Sandy Valley, and five counties have voted bonds to help build this road.

A message from Frankfort says: Not only the Mayo Trail, but a number of other proposed Kentucky highways depend on donations by Fiscal Court, and the decision of the Court of Appeals on the Lawrence county case will have an important bearing on the construction program for the next two years.

Attorney General Dawson, who has watched the Lawrence county case closely, is confident that the Court of Appeals will uphold Judge Cisco.

Following the decision in the Hopkins county case, in which the Fiscal Court there was enjoined from advancing money to the state, many counties have appropriated money outright to the state in order to obtain federal aid.

Much is said about fence made of "Open Hearth" or "Bessemer" Steel. We use both in Anthony Fence.

NO BUSINESS FOR A QUITTER

Says John Wanamaker: "If there is one business on earth that a 'quitter' should severely leave alone, it is advertising. To make a success of advertising one must be prepared to stick to it like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins it that he must spend money—considerable of it. Somebody should tell him also that he cannot hope to reap results commensurate with his expenditures early in the game. Advertising doesn't jerk; it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is then steady. It increases day by day and year by year, until it exerts an irresistible power. It is likened to a team pulling a heavy load. A thousand spasmodic, jerky pulls will not budge the load, while one-half the power, exercised in a steady effort, will start and keep it moving. There are three ways to make advertising pay, and these are the only ways. There are no others. First, is to keep at it; second, is to keep at it; third, is to keep at it."

Harding Will Take Oath from Lincoln Inaugural Table

When President-elect Warren G. Harding steps forward to take the oath of office in Washington, March 4, the little mahogany table upon which will rest the Holy Bible, very likely will be the source of a great inspiration to him, to fulfill the duties of his office with "justice to all." It is the same little table used first when Abraham Lincoln took oath and the spirit of the great American is still there. Every president since Lincoln has taken oath from this little stand except Taft—due to last minute inaugural changes due to bad weather. The stand is in possession of Watson S. Clark, son of the Capitol architect. The inserts are of Edward B. McLean, Washington publisher, chairman of the Washington citizen inaugural committee, and a snapshot of the Capitol steps just as the Harding inaugural stand construction was started.

Whiskey Tax is Held Unconditional

Kentucky laws levying a special tax on liquors withdrawn from the bonded warehouses were held invalid Monday by the Supreme Court. Several millions of dollars in taxes already collected by the state were involved.

The court sustained lower courts which had granted an injunction to the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Company and the J. and A. Frieberg Company preventing interference by the state authorities to withdrawals of liquor in which the tax had been paid.

The Supreme Court upheld decrees of the federal district court for the Eastern Kentucky District that the law under which the taxes were collected violated both the state and federal constitutions.

The state argued that there was no competition in the liquor business now and that the tax therefore could not be considered confiscatory.

The decision of the Supreme Court that the Vance bill, imposing a 50-cent-gallon tax on whiskey is unconstitutional lost Kentucky $2,155,520 for road construction. Since the bill became effective 4,949,000 gallons of whiskey were withdrawn from bonded warehouses, and under the decision of the Supreme Court the state lost a tax of 48 cents on each gallon. Under the old law, which imposed a two-cent gallon tax on Kentucky, the state will receive $98,980 on the 4,949,000 barrels withdrawn.

City High School Notes

The entire school is much interested in the proposed playground, which is now being so strongly pushed by the citizens. In the next three weeks the proceeds from three entertainments will be used for this fund, these entertainments being the Conley Quintet on March 3rd, in the High School Auditorium, a picture show at the Tabb March 15th, and Mrs. Chilton, dramatic reader, in the auditorium March 23. The town has been districted and pupils have been assigned streets on which to sell tickets so do not refuse to buy a ticket and help get the playground. The admission for the Conley Quintet on March 3rd will be 35c, and it is well worth the admission.

There were several visitors at the school Monday, quite an unusual occurrence. We wish very much that more visitors would come and visit our classes and get acquainted with the work of the school.

WAR TAX MISSING IN FILM OF KID CIRCUS RE-CREATION

That there were once days when the war tax did not figure in amusement affairs will be recalled by "The Big Show," third of the two-reel Chester Comedies, at the Tabb Theatre Thursday. A considerable portion of the picture is built around the imitation "show" such as the youngsters like to stage in the backyard after their visit to the "big top," to which admission was twenty pins or five buttons off dad's best suit. It includes the tattooed man, the wild man, the Hula dancer and all the other attractions of the sawdust ring, including the menagerie. Combined with this are an unusual number of thrills, supplied by Snooky, the Humanzee, who created a sensation among motion picture goers by his feats in "Four Times Foiled" and "An Overall Hero."

RESIDENCE BURNS

The nine-room residence and the stock barn of Burnam Adams on his farm on the Winchester pike, and all of the contents practically, in the residence, and a lot of feed which was stored in the barn, consisting of about 200 barrels of corn and a lot of hay and implements were destroyed by fire on Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock.

The place was purchased about two years ago by Mr. Adams from Zack Conner and had on it a nice residence which was in good repair and the stock barn which was destroyed, was in excellent condition. It was by hard work of the neighbors that the large tobacco barn was saved from the flames.

weeks ago, returned today to his home on the Owingsville pike. Young Couchman's condition is slightly improved.

READING

On next Friday, March 4th, at 2 P. M., at the History Club rooms Mr. Lewis Killpatrick will give a reading of two of his recent short stories, "Before the World War," and "After the World War." Also there will be some women's choruses under the direction of Mrs. Loring Turley and Mrs. Jack Burbridge. Club Tea.

JUST what you put into a suit in the way of price is just what you are going to get out of that suit in wear and satisfaction. That clothing has reached a lower price level, there is no doubt, but that clothing has lost its value, or that labor has entirely surrendered its rights is a vague idea and a gross mistake. Permit us to say the best thing for you to do is to visit the Walsh Company for your next suit. The store that has had its hand on the throttle throughout the whole business journey of the war period, and the one who is in a position to take advantage of the new price levels, and give their patrons greater bargains in better merchandise at prices that are in keeping with the conditions and the times.

Big men, odd fellows and slims, stouts and stubs will find some wonderful bargains here in all-the-year-round suits.

Wheat Acreage Good

Nearly fifty millers of the Blue Grass attended the midwinter meeting of the Central Kentucky Millers' Association at Lexington Thursday, when problems of the trade were discussed informally and in addresses by officers. C. H. Petry, of Mt. Sterling, and president of the association, and J. W. Morrison, secretary of the Lexington Roller Mills, were among those who spoke.

After the luncheon, which was served in the main dining room of the hotel, informal discussion of various topics was held, including the collection of railroad claims, wage reductions, costs of manufacturing and selling, and the disposal of the surplus flour.

The 1921 wheat crop in Central Kentucky shows a 100 per cent condition and, based on pre-war estimates, a 90 per cent acreage, according to reports presented at the meeting. The acreage this year represents a considerable increase over last season, it was said.

Red Cross News

Approximately 6,000 letters dealing with the problems of ex-service men are pouring out each month from Lake Division Headquarters of the American Red Cross at Cleveland, Ohio.

Since the first letter in connection with this vital phase of Red Cross service was received at Lake Division Headquarters in September, of 1917, a total of 82,000 cases have been filed at the division offices.

In January of this year 6,067 cases were handled, of which 4,436 were old and 1,631 new.

Since the service was inaugurated in Lake Division during the war 36,037 disability cases of soldiers have received the attention of the Red Cross workers. The total number of mental cases have been filed in the department is 2,542, while 5,992 soldier tuberculosis cases have passed through the channels of the Red Cross.

In such matters as obtaining vocational training from the Federal Board organized for that purpose, straightening out the compensation claims, securing Liberty Bonds for which ex-service men had subscribed, but which had not been received, obtaining medical treatment from the United States Public Health Service, assisting ex-service men to secure employment and in other vital ways the Red Cross has been of great assistance and encouragement to thousands of men who wore the uniform of Uncle Sam.

Co-operating with the U. S. Public Health Service, the Federal Board for Vocational Training, the War Risk Insurance Bureau and other organizations dealing with the cases of ex-service men, the Red Cross has acted as an intermediary in the solving of many perplexing problems.

Among the workers in this highly important work at Lake Division offices are two medical social service correspondents and one who specializes in psychiatric cases, those involving nervous disorders.

This department of the division offices of the Red Cross is fulfilling the purpose of assisting chapters in carrying out their obligation to former service men.

Upon the Red Cross chapter rests the chief responsibility of "standing by" the boys who entered the service of their country in time of greatest need, but, in the furtherance of this vital phase of Red Cross helpfulness the assistance of a trained personnel such as has been organized at division headquarters is important.

Red Cross chapters throughout Lake Division have, in the main, recognized and assumed their obligations to the ex-service men in their respective communities in helping to make smooth their readjustment to civilian life. Under the peace program of the Red Cross this type of service, far from being finished, will occupy a great deal of thought and effort for considerable time to come.

Weekly Marketgram

HAY—Colder weather causing a slightly improved demand. Receipts very light except at Kansas City and Omaha. Timothy prices up 50c; alfalfa unchanged except at Memphis, where it is $2.00 lower. Prairie is down $2.50 at Kansas City; unchanged at Minneapolis and Omaha. Low grades almost unsalable. Demand only equal to present light receipts in principal markets. Quoted, February 23rd, No. 1 timothy, New York, $31.50; Cincinnati, $23.50; Chicago, $24; Minneapolis, $19.50; Kansas City, $19; Atlanta, $30; No. 1 alfalfa, Kansas City, $19.50; Omaha, $19; Memphis, $27; No. 1 prairie, Memphis, $15.50; Kansas City, $11.50; Omaha, $10.50.

FEED—Southeastern markets report an easier tendency with prices of all feedstuffs about $1.00 lower in Atlanta. Northeastern markets lost part of last week's gain because of extremely light demand. Stocks generally good and accumulating in a number of markets. Transit offerings increasing. Export demand for high protein feeds light. Beet pulp and alfalfa meal weak. Gluten feed and hominy feed steady. Quoted, bran, $21; middlings, $20.50; flour middlings, $24.50, Minneapolis; linseed meal, $39.50, Buffalo; $37, Minneapolis; 36 per cent cotton seed meal, $26, Memphis; $35, at Northeastern markets, white hominy feed $25, Chicago; $25, St. Louis. Gluten feed, $37, Chicago; $39.50, Baltimore; beet pulp, $32, Philadelphia and New York; No. 1 alfalfa meal, $19 Kansas City.

GRAIN—Prices declined the early part of the week, but on the 19th and 21st there were upturns on renewal of export demand and limited offerings. On the 23rd the market was unsettled and on the 24th prices dropped 4 to 5c. Factors contributing to weakness at the close were decidedly bearish sentiment, weakness in stock market and economic conditions, and a further decline in cash wheat prices. In Chicago cash market No. 1 red winter wheat 12c over March as compared with 31c premium on the 18th. Export demand slow. Canadian flour reported offered 50¢/75¢ per barrel cheaper than American flour at New York. Wheat receipts at Minneapolis principally Canadian. There is heavy undertone to corn market despite export sales of nearly 1,500,000 bushels on the 23rd and 24th. Reported that Germany will import 18,500,000 bushels of corn to cut wheat requirements, but American trade more concerned with liberal receipts and fairly large country consignments. In Chicago cash market No. 2 red winter wheat 10¢/12¢ over Chicago March; No. 2 hard, 3¢/5¢ over; No. 3 mixed corn, 5¢ under Chicago May; No. 3 yellow, 4¢/5¢ under. Week price changes at Chicago: March wheat down 11-8¢ at $1.67 1-4; May corn down 21-4¢, at 60 3-4c. Minneapolis March wheat down 41-8¢ at $1.52 7-8. Kansas City March 11-2¢ at $1.57. Winnipeg May 11-8¢ at $1.83 3-8.

LIVESTOCK, MEATS—Higher prices ruled on practically all livestock at Chicago. Greatest advances occurred in the sheep and lamb market. Fat lambs up $1.70@2.25; feeding lambs generally $1 per 100 pounds; fat ewes up $1.50; yearlings, $1.50@1.75. Beef and feeder steers advanced 25¢; butcher stock, 25¢/50¢; hogs up 25¢/40¢ per 100 pounds. February 24th Chicago report prices: Hogs, bulk of sales, $9.25@10.15; medium and good beef steers, $8.65@10.25; butcher cows and heifers, $4.50@9.50; feeder steers, $7.25@9; light and medium

SHE WAS ALMOST A NERVOUS WRECK

Covington Woman Says Tanlac Has Made a New Woman of Her. Can't Praise It Enough

"I can recommend Tanlac with all my heart," said Mrs. Susie Medaris, of 226 West 14th street, Covington, Ky., "for since taking the medicine I am enjoying just wonderful health and strength.

"For nearly a year I was almost a nervous wreck. I lost my appetite so completely that I had no desire whatever for food. I felt tired and worn out all the time and seemed to be losing all the energy I ever had. Of all troubles I think nervousness must be the worst, for I never had anything before to give me half the worry and so completely rob life of all its pleasures.

"From the testimonials I saw, where lots of people had been relieved of their nervousness and that gave me heart to try it. It took hold of my condition almost at once and built me right up. In almost no time I began to relish my meals and regain my strength.

"Now I am full of energy, perfectly healthy and life is once more a pleasure to me. In fact Tanlac has truly made me a new woman and I can never praise it enough."

Tanlac is sold in Mt. Sterling by Land & Priest.

BLOOD IS FUEL TO THE BODY

Pumped Through the System by the Heart it Sustains the Muscles and the Tissues

PEPTO-MANGAN HELPS BLOOD

Keep the Quality of Your Blood at Its Best—It Means Vigorous Health and Ability to Accomplish

Blood acts like a fuel. Pumped through the body by the heart, it sustains the muscles and tissues. It renews them. It feeds the brain—the tissues of the eye and face. That is why people look so pale and lifeless when blood is impoverished. The body tissues are being supplied with weak fuel. The blood has not enough red corpuscles. You would not eat poor food with no nourishment in it; no more should you let the fuel that supplies sustenance to your entire body be inferior. Have good blood. Improve the quality and keep it at its best.

If you look pale and feel weak, if you have lost your enthusiasm and energy, if your blood is clogged with poisons, your system is being fed with a poor grade of blood. That is no way to go around. If you are not at your best, get at the source of the trouble right away. Put an end to half-living.

Take that ideal tonic, Pepto-Mangan, to tone up your blood and purify it. Get the full enjoyment out of living. Breathe fresh air, take exercise.

Be sure to ask for "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." It comes in convenient tablet form and in liquid. One has the same medicinal value as the other. There is only one genuine Pepto-Mangan, and the name "Gude's" is on the package.—Advertisement.

Diversify Your Crops

One great fault with many of the small farmers of Central Kentucky, is a failure to diversify their crops.

Instead of raising a few acres of potatoes, a few acres of sorghum, a few acres of popcorn and a few acres of strawberries or other small fruit, many of them fall into the habit of raising tobacco or some other one product alone.

In the state of Tennessee during the last few years there has been inaugurated and carried out a successful campaign to get the farmers to diversify their crops, and it has been successful to a marked degree. The result is that instead of the farmers of Tennessee depending entirely upon cotton, sugar cane, or tobacco alone, they raise at least a half-dozen other crops, including peanuts and sweet potatoes, so that in case of the failure of one crop the farmer can fall back on the others.

The result has been that the farmers have increased their incomes regularly and greatly lessened their chances of losing money in any one year.

Kentucky farmers would do well to follow the example, in this respect, of their Tennessee neighbors.

You imagine you are a pretty fine kind of a fellow, but the chances are that if you ever met a man precisely like yourself you wouldn't have much to do with him.

A Menace to our Rural Education

Insecurity of tenure is held by the American Federation of Teachers' Executive Council to be one of the prime causes for inefficiency in educational work. The federation maintains that this is especially noticeable in the rural districts where teachers are subjected to the whims of the local boards of education.

An effort is being made to enlist the support of the people of the rural districts in a movement to have laws enacted in each state that will obviate arbitrary dismissal of competent teachers by more or less arbitrary boards of education. In other words the effort is being made to put teachers strictly on their merits and to safeguard their tenure of office as long as they prove efficient, provided their conduct is above reproach.

Statistics show that in the past there has been a surprising number of dismissals and changes, especially in the country districts, that were due to social or other trivial causes.

It is a fact that the present system has too much of a tendency to develop cowardice and servility which have no place in the democracy of education. A teacher, to be efficient, should be accorded the same latitude enjoyed by other citizens of rural communities of the same educational attainments. Too often is the teacher in the country restricted by an autocratic and awe-inspiring board that assumes it is its prerogative to exercise a censorship even in matters not directly affecting the conduct of the school.

To safeguard the tenure of competent teachers it is proposed that a concentrated effort be made to enact laws regulating the removal of teachers. The proposed laws should provide for impartial hearings and for appeal to the civil courts, if necessary. The constant changing of teachers for trivial causes has now proven a menace to the educational systems of the rural communities.

WEAK, NERVOUS, ALL RUN-DOWN

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. 'I saw after taking some Cardui... that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me... My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere. E.33

EDUCATIONAL TOOTH TALK—38 A ROTTING BONE

A decaying tooth is simply a bone rotting in your mouth. It is present day and night passing out its poisons into your system. How can you expect your system to retain its health with these poisons constantly working into your tissues? Is it any wonder you have rheumatism, neuralgia, lassitude, affected eyes, ears and heart? Does it seem strange that you should more readily contract contagious diseases than formerly? The teeth are a wonderful adjunct, but uncared for, they become the seat of almost numberless human woes.—Dr. H. M. Wright, Traders Bank Building.

About the frankest man we ever met was a conceited man who admitted it.

BACKACHE, PAIN IN SIDE, HEADACHE

Nashville, Tenn.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine I have ever taken. I suffered for a long time with feminine trouble. I would become so nervous that I would have to give up and lie down until I would get quiet. I suffered with backaches, pains in my side and bearing pains. I would also have periodical spells of sick headaches. I could not eat or sleep and got where I was a physical wreck. I decided to give Favorite Prescription a trial and it completely cured me."—MRS. ALICE McCLOUD, 1619 Sixth Ave. N. All druggists.

ing crowd and the thrilling race commenced. The machines were started and as each post was reached the relay men were required to take off the driver's "suit," wash it thoroughly, put on his second "suit" and start him on to the next post. Excitement ran high and the betting was reckless, but there was so much dissatisfaction at the decision rendered that the judge was chased from the floor and all bets declared off.

Baylor Landrum, of the Lafayette-Phoenix Garage, of Lexington, after much persuasion, kindly consented to sing, the selection being "John Barleycorn is Dead, but his Brother Jake is Here." He reeled to the stage and gave such an accurate imitation of an "old time southerner" that tears could be seen in the eyes of the various members, at this sharp reminder of days that are gone never to return. Mr. Landrum's impersonation was the best thing of the kind ever seen in our city and we feel that we owe him a heartfelt vote of thanks. He took the audience off their feet and his act was greeted by such an outburst of applause that it could not be quelled until he came back twice with parodies "Her Hosiery" and "In The Shade of the Old Apple Tree."

Dr. A. S. Hendricks, also of Lexington, and an eminent cartoonist, highly entertained his audience for half an hour by drawing cartoons of our local people in such a telling manner that without any names everybody would have been able to spot the originals without experiencing any sort of brain fog for their effort. The success of the entertainment was in such a large measure, due to the kindness of our out-of-town guests that we feel we are not capable of fully expressing our appreciation to them.

Earl King Senff, the youthful songbird, sang from the middle table "You Ain't Heard Nothin' Yet," and "Don't Take Away Those Blues." Earl was black-face, dressed in a red satin dress suit and it was all that the organization could do to keep the representatives from Lexington, Paris and Georgetown from carrying off the mascot.

Joe Keller and Bob Coleman gave a black-face dialogue that was a scream and reminded us, once more, that the local talent cannot be excelled.

The real hit of the evening, however, was the thrilling horse race—Drivers, Sid Hart, Cap. Petry and Green Strother. A unique feature of the race was that instead of sulkies, Kiddie Kars were used and the world famous horses "Bill May," "Jack O." and "D. Brother" were the entries. Driver Petry and "Jack O." were the victors, winning this hard-fought battle by a nose only, and were presented with handsome automobiles as a token of their victory.

The evening closed with a farewell chorus "My Old Kentucky Home," and a unanimous agreement that there's no place like home after all, when H-O-M-E spells Kentucky.

CHIROPRACTOR COMING

Dr. Lewis E. Kidwell, chiropractor, of Bourbon county, will locate in this city in the near future for the practice of his profession, and his office location will be announced within the next few days. He is a graduate of the Palmer School, of Davenport, Iowa, and comes highly recommended as a high class gentleman and thoroughly competent in his profession. He is a son of Rev. E. K. Kidwell, a Methodist minister and pastor of the church at Little Rock. Dr. Kidwell formerly taught school in Fleming county and served in the late war, seeing much active service.

Prosecution of Profiteers Halted

The Supreme Court yesterday held unconstitutional the sections of the Lever act under which the government stopped the coal strike in 1919 and subsequently launched its campaign to reduce the cost of living by prosecuting alleged hoarders of and profiteers in foodstuffs and other necessities.

The court's opinion was rendered specially in an appeal by the government from a decree in the lower courts quashing an indictment against an alleged profiteer in sugar, but it was sweeping in its terms and will have the effect of ending all prosecutions instituted by the Department of Justice in its cost of living campaign.

Strother Breeze, trouble man for the Cumberland Telephone Co., was slightly injured Saturday night when the car he was driving became unmanageable and struck a telephone pole at the side of the road. The accident occurred on the Winchester pike, about eight miles from this city and the car was badly damaged. Mr. Breeze is rapidly recovering from his injuries and is able to be at work.

Produce Review

Butter markets have shown a further advance, due to heavy demand, although the production is heavier than a year ago, while stocks in storage are also larger.

Egg values are practically unchanged. The increased demand, resulting from lower retail prices, is taking care of the heavy production.

Poultry prices have shown some further decline, due to consuming trade not buying freely, as the consumer seems to think it possible to buy other foods to better advantage.
